The MiniCrib Team report that normally, at this time of the year, they would be working hard to get cribs for the latest RSCDS book into the MiniCrib database. This year the RSCDS is not producing a book of new dances - instead they are publishing a collection of popular dances, previously published elsewhere – to be available at the ‘Autumn Gathering’ (new name for the AGM). It is believed that MiniCrib already has cribs for these dances, so they are taking the opportunity to enjoy a somewhat more relaxing July!

However, they have not stopped work altogether, but are working through collections of dances which have been "on the back burner" but really do warrant an entry in the crib database. So, look out for the next edition of MiniCrib which they plan to upload in August.

In the meantime you might be interested to know that the MiniCrib website www.minicrib.org.uk/publish.html has added 2 collections of original dance descriptions which you are free to download:

1. 30 dances devised by John A Johnston (Hon Vice President, Glasgow)

2. 36 dances devised by the late James McMillan (Glasgow)
